FEBRUARY 2016

The days are getting longer and Spring is on the way. This sunset over Ide, taken by Penny, proves it hasn't rained all the time! Thank you for the articles and photos that have come in for this edition - you can enjoy the pictures of the Ide Aloud Panto and read about the intrepid cyclists in France, plus much more. Regarding pictures, we look as if we are going to have to pay a fine of £45 for breaching copyright. We used a picture from the internet thinking that there was no copyright on it. However, we have learnt to our cost that most pictures on the internet do have a copyright on them. The problem arose because the Ide Times is put on the village website.

We would like to thank Betty Addicott for the generous donation to the Ide Times from the Friday night whist drives. Thank you very much.

Items for the March edition of the Ide Times should be sent to Ann Boyce at annboyce@talk21.com by the 20th February please.

IDE PARISH COUNCIL

Council Tax – Village Precept - The precept is the amount of money the Parish Council receives from Teignbridge District Council to cover the “running costs” of the village. We have to put in a claim for this allocation every year and Ide has asked for no increase to last year’s precept figure of £6,000 in the calculation of Council Tax bills for 2016/17.

Play Area – The wet weather has meant the contractor has been unable to sort out the surface work and the Play Area remains closed until this has been done. Thank you (and your children) for your patience.

Winter weather – Thank you for your efforts to keep the drains and gulleys clear. The stock of sandbags has been replenished after the heavy demand at the start of January. Sandbags and bags of road salt are available from the metal storage container in the Car Park – to arrange collection, please contact Andy Swain, 3 Cobbe House, (Tel: 01392 257945) or Barry Hookins (see below).

Please report any problems with the state of the roads direct to Devon Highways at <https://new.devon.gov.uk/roadsandtransport/report-a-problem/> or phone them on 0345 155 1004. The more people who report it, the better the response!

Parish Council Meeting - The minutes of the meeting held on Wednesday 20th January are on display on the Parish Notice Board in Coronation Gardens, and on the village website.

The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday 16th March 2016 at 7.30 in the Memorial Hall.

If you have anything you wish to be discussed please bring it to the attention of one of the Councillors or contact the clerk for it to be included on the agenda. You are welcome to attend the meetings and there is a ten minutes’ slot allocated for public participation.

IDE TWINNING ASSOCIATION

At our recent AGM the following officers were elected:

Lin Black (President), Dee Howe (Vice President), Karen Blundell (Secretary) David Williams (Treasurer). There will be plenty to keep them busy this year as we celebrate the 40th anniversary of twinning. We will be celebrating in France so if any of you (twinners or not) would like to join us on a trip to France from 27th -30th May, please contact Karen Blundell for more details.

THE TELETHON AT CLEVILLE

By the time you read this article, the December's Telethon will be a distant memory. Two wheelers, Pete Bishop and David Howe plus a ringer - the Twinners' honorary vintner, Piers Markham - shoehorned themselves, 3 bikes and an unwarranted volume of gear into Dave's trusty steed at a very antisocial hour on the morning of Friday 4th December bound for the Poole - Cherbourg ferry and thence to Cleville to take part in the "fils rouge" - a 24 hour bike ride around the back roads of Normandy all in the name of charity.

So what were the highlights?:

A just in time 4pm arrival at Cleville necessitating an over hasty preparation for the start line - and a distinct shortage of air in Piers's tyres - not to mention his lungs.

An enthusiastic greeting from our French friends grateful that we had made the effort to participate at a time when they were licking their wounds after the Paris shootings.

Fire eating, the mysterious "vente d'enveloppes" and various Gallic antics including service of "les tripes" for breakfast washed down with copious quantities of vin blanc. Non merci.

A brief respite on Friday night couched among the apples in Sven Starlander's barn - with Pete B periodically standing on my (slowly deflating) roll mat trying to spy through the window any French legs sneaking in extra rounds on the course.

A slightly surreal visit to Jerome and Jaqueline's "jardin" to admire their exotic breeds - somewhere between 2-300 of them - all against a backdrop of a more than life sized illuminated Father Christmas complete with sleigh and reindeer headed for the chimney.

And the statistics? A shade under 700 km between us on our bikes, 450 Euros thrown into the Telethon pot and 3 very tired but happy wheelers.

IDE COMMUNITY SHOP & POST OFFICE

It's lovely to see spring flowers back in the shop again reminding us that hopefully better times lie ahead after the seemingly interminable months of rain.

Our end of year review of sales always throws up some surprising results. While the fact that we sold 2000 punnets of strawberries comes as no surprise, who would have guessed that we sold 525kg of bananas, that's half a metric tonne! I thought that was quite impressive until I found out that apparently on average each person in the UK eats 10kg of bananas a year, that's about 100 bananas. I've just done the maths and with about 525 of us in Ide we're only eating a kg per person. This means that either there are a lot of non-banana lovers in the village or (and I hesitate to suggest this) bananas are being bought elsewhere! On that well known website 'Bananas', it's claimed that bananas help you feel happier as they contain tryptophan, a protein the body converts into serotonin, a substance known to promote relaxation and improve mood! And before you toss aside your banana skins, you might like to consider that they can be used to calm itchy mosquito bites, polish your shoes, and even make a good feed for your roses.

If the recent cold weather has been making you feel sorry for your feathered friends, don't forget that we sell of good range of very reasonably priced wild bird food.

We will of course be selling Valentine's cards, chocolates and flowers in readiness for February 14th.

Finally, I know I've mentioned Arthur's meat before, but it is really is very good. The braising steak is the best I've ever come across.....tender, tasty and no trimming required. At the moment we have a few customers who buy regularly, but we need more to ensure continuity of supply into the future. So please consider trying some, we know you won't be disappointed.

Post Office News

The force is back....Star Wars fans might be interested to know that we have an exciting new range of stamps. We also have quite a lot of Rugby Cup stamps leftno prizes for guessing why that might be!

JUBILEE CLUB

November 30th – was our Christmas Bingo and a good crowd turned out to win some Christmas goodies. Cliff Sanford our usual caller was in good form.

The Christmas party on December 14th was a happy occasion with a good attendance. Children from Ide School came to entertain us. Their enthusiasm a credit to them and Sue their music teacher. We could hear the words so clearly of every song and the children were so cheerful - thank you all. It was then time for our own bit of entertainment. Christina had come up with the story of how the robin got it's red breast. There were hunters sheltering in an igloo a marauding polar bear, a robin and of course no tale would be complete without a fairy. It was great fun. Members then made a Christmas tree decoration. After all this excitement, it was tea time with the table laid out with goodies, Christmas cake and a glass of sherry.

Thanks to the whist group to Betty and Doug for their kind donation to the club

It is with sadness we hear the news of the passing away of Audrey Mortimer, a member of the club for many years, she was at a meeting only a few weeks ago. Amy Bennet is making good progress following a fall and Marge Addicott is recovering well after a hip operation.

It was pantomime time at Dunsford on January 16th. A group of twenty members went to see Peter and the Wolf, a different panto and an excellent show. The whole cast performed brilliantly, with the children being very adept at quick changes of costume.

January 18th – Dr Jane Richards showed us slides of animals she has seen in Southern Africa, whilst telling tales of her many safaris. These wonderful photographs were accompanied by Jane's lovely commentary and amusing anecdotes

IN MEMORIAM

Sadly since our last issue of the Ide Times we have to report the passing of three of our elderly villagers. Charlie Voysey died before Christmas and many of us will miss his visits to the shop to get sweets for his carers. Audrey Mortimer who lived in The Hams died on the 27th December and Norma Havill, who for many years lived in one of the chalet bungalows at the bottom of the village died on the 5th January. They will be much missed. Jean Cloke, Peter's mother, who at one time lived in the village, has also died. We extend our sympathy to all the families involved.

The Family of Audrey Mortimer would like to thank everyone who attended her funeral, the Vicar and Organist - it was a lovely Service.

FILM NIGHT - Friday, February 12th, at 7-45pm. Dunchideock Village Hall.

Suffragette. This film topped our December audience poll. Carey Mulligan "is in seriously good form" as the married factory worker with a young family who finds herself drawn into the Suffragette Movement a hundred years ago.

PARENTING COURSE

Mark and Jo Nightingale, along with friends Felicity and Sam Ursell, invite you to join them on a 5 week parenting course. The course is for any parents with children up to the age of 10 and whilst based on Christian principles, is relevant and helpful to anyone with or without a Christian faith or church background. It will be held in Dunsford Church every Monday evening from 7.30pm starting on the 22nd February. To find out more please contact Mark or Jo (07753114235) or email Sam or Felicity windoutfarm@icloud.com to book your place.

The Hub@Ide

What is it they say, the terrible two's. Well in the case of the Hub@Ide we don't think it has been that. You see this year (January in fact,) we celebrate 2 years since the Hub really first opened. In that time, coffee mornings, lunches, film days, photography, KFP (Kids, Fun, Pizza) outdoor activities, badge making, chocolate crafts, men's breakfasts, educational talks, Art Walls, Christmas Trees and more have added up to over 60 events, many requested by the community that dozens, in fact in total hundreds have visited. In addition we have supported charities at home and two schools in Kenya.

We don't rest though; this year we are looking at large screens and computer games, Scaletrix, Lego for a Brick Club, sensory activities and more. All can be found on our Facebook Page: The Hub Ide. Why not just drop for Fairtrade refreshments and find out why so many have made the last two years far from terrible.

Finally, for all our visitors, friends and visitors, to all who make the Hub, well the Hub and BIG 2 year thank you.

Jackie, Evanne, Adrian and Wendy.

In the community, with the community, for the community.

CHRISTINGLE SERVICE

It was lovely to welcome so many people to St Ida's for the Christingle and thanks to your generous contributions we were able to donate £317 to the Exeter branch of the Children's Society, who were most grateful. Our thanks go to Mark Nightingale and his musicians, to Ide School choir and to the Christingle-making team for helping to make a memorable service.

PANCAKE DAY CONCERT on Shrove Tuesday, 9th February

We are looking forward to welcoming Ide Aloud to perform for us again in their annual Pancake Day concert on Shrove Tuesday, (9th February) and hope that many of you will come along to hear them sing (and join in) and, of course, to sample a pancake or two! (Children welcome and they can come in for free.)

Messy Church - 13th February, 10am to 12 noon, in Ide Church

This is always a fun morning with plenty of activities but also a Bible Story. There is tea, coffee and biscuits for adults and squash and biscuits for children. All welcome. Brenda Spivey

Mothers Union - Prayer Group will meet after the 10.30am Service on the 3rd February. On Tuesday, 9th February at 11am there will be the triennial Commissioning Service in the Cathedral (with all the branch banners). The new Diocesan President, Officers, Deanery and Branch Leaders will be commissioned. I hope as many members as possible will be able to attend. We will also meet on Wednesday, 24th February at 2.30pm, venue to be arranged. Sue Campbell

MY THOUGHTS ON HEALING - Mark Nightingale

During the Christingle I mentioned the subject of miraculous healing and this has led to questions about the nature of healing. This is a mammoth issue and in the minute space given to me I cannot do it justice; nevertheless, let's start by defining what healing is. As a Christian I personally believe God ordains life, and so healing, which brings life and health also originates from God. So whether healing comes through our amazing medical professionals using their God-given ability to heal the sick or someone praying for a miracle, in my view it is still God inspiring the healing. But quite often it is miraculous healing that is questioned.

The Bible shows us God views healing as perfectly normal, it is simply part of his nature, as he wants life to thrive. Only on earth does it make sense to describe a non medical healing as miraculous or supernatural, maybe this is because it unnerves us as it shakes the status quo.

So if healing is of God it is merely him revealing his character, power and sovereignty into our world. Throughout history we see God healing and Christians are called to copy him. This is suggested to us in the Lord's prayer, 'Your Kingdom come, on earth as it is in heaven'. In other words we are asking elements or signs of heaven to be seen on earth and miraculous healing is one such sign. One way to attempt to understand this would be to see that the Bible shows us heaven has no sickness or death. And so when we see heaven move throughout our world, particularly through healing, all we are seeing are foretastes of God's kingdom and power that ultimately we will see in the future when the heavens and the earth come under God's full authority.

As I look into this subject I find that most authors and practitioners of non medical healing suggest more people are healed when we concentrate not on the expertise of praying for healing, but on our devotion to God. Mother Teresa for example pursued God's heart above all things and, as she drew near to her Lord, her life and work seemed to be more empowered because God's character, nature and power was being seen through her. I suppose as in any relationship, when we draw near to someone we love we begin to understand them more and during this process their character inevitably rubs off on us. It is the same with God, and perhaps as we draw near to him on a consistent basis we begin to understand why healing happens, but more importantly why sometimes they do not.

I love seeing people healed and I have seen some amazing things, like registered blind people gaining 20/20 vision again. But I still do not fully understand why some are healed and some are not and I am acutely aware that this brings so much pain and sadness to many people, including myself. However, the more I draw near to God, read the Bible and pray 'Your kingdom come', the more I feel at peace when I see glimpses of heaven breaking into our earthly realm, and I long to see more of them.

Do come and speak to me if you have questions. I can be found around the village most days, or simply ring me on 494741 and we can arrange to chat some more.

We support patients by providing volunteer transport to medical appointments for elderly and disabled people, befriending isolated people and providing information/ support for carers.

The Ide Lane Surgery Friends Christmas Tea at Alphington Village Hall was a great success with the hall nearly full and a very happy atmosphere. A very efficient band of volunteers served tea and delicious food to everyone who attended. The draw had some fantastic prizes including an M&S voucher given by a volunteer, vouchers donated by the New Inn and Stylers hairdressers, hampers made up from food items kindly donated by doctors, nurses and admin staff at the Surgery. Alphington Pharmacy also gave a super hamper full of toiletries etc. Altogether the tea raised £343.50. Thank you to everyone who helped in any way, especially the main organisers Georgie Boggis, Judy Blackaller and Janet Draper.

In December Ide Lane Friends Volunteers and their partners enjoyed a bring & share Christmas supper. We had some lovely food, lots of chat and a Christmas Quiz. Thanks to Gail and Don Hayes for organising it so well.

Books - In 2015 £784 was raised for the Friends by the sale of second hand books in the surgery and at book sales in Alphington Village Hall, which is a terrific result. All thanks go to Ray Guppy who organises it and to his band of willing volunteers. The book stall takes place alternate Monday mornings at the surgery 8.30 -12.15. The next Book Sale in the Village Hall is on the morning of Saturday, 5 March.

Do you have any good quality books you no longer want? If so please bring them to the surgery or, if you need to have them collected, please ring Jane on 428902. Children's books are particularly needed at present.

The first Ide Lane Friends Aldens Tea Afternoon of 2016 is on Wednesday 3 February at The Community Room in Aldens Road 2.30 - 4pm. Everyone welcome. And the first Ide Lane Carers' Group is on Tuesday 16 February, 6.30pm at the Surgery. All carers welcome.

Thank you to Whist Group - Betty Addicott and the Friday Night Ide Whist Group have sent a very generous donation for ILF funds. Many thanks for this.

IDE ALOUD'S CINDERELLA

December 12th, 2015 will be a date seared in the memory of many an Ide-ite for generations to come. For that was when for the first time in 50 years (slight exaggeration), The Panto – for one night only - returned to the village. We have Ide Aloud to thank for this – and their jolly production of Cinderella. Written by Jane Rotinoff, Sue Therrien and Chris Coles, the story showcased some talents hitherto unknown to a wider audience. Who knew that Andy the Postman, Chris and Ken Dyson could be such natural Ugly Sisters? That Ann Boyce could hold it together while chaos swirled around her and that Sue Cloke could play The Queen as if born to the role? But highest praise must go to Anoushka Roberts as The Prince and Claire Prowse as Cinderella. There was no hiding place for these two, and they both took centre stage with great aplomb. Their singing was a joy and they turned a fun night out into something special. 'It's Got To Be Perfect' was just lovely. Pulling the whole shebang together was Ide's very own Andrew Lloyd-Webber, Jane Rotinoff. Her musical and stage direction (with some help from Susie Honnor) mixed songs and drama seamlessly. Respect due, Jane! The audience loved it – and even got to sing along. "Will there be a panto next year?" asked my eldest, Stan, nervously. "Who knows, my boy, who knows?" I replied. Over to you, Ide Aloud.

PAST LIVES - My Childhood at Drakes Farm - David Garnsworthy

My father and mother took up the tenancy of Drakes Farm, Ide, at Michaelmas quarter 1920. The fields were across the brook at the end of the College. There were three fields Ely, Marsh and Horsepark - all capable of hay making. However, Marsh produced the better hay. The link road now runs through these fields which is a shame as Ely was used by the Football team in the winter being nice and flat.

There were 10 or so milking cows, mixed breeds of Ayrshire, Dairy Shorthorn, which had to be milked twice a day and had to be fetched from across the College and then taken back, having walked through the stream on route. There were four or five sows and these also went to and fro but they had to walk on the path. If it was nearly feeding time for their young piglets the sows would run at a very fast speed. The residents of the cottages came out with their buckets and shovels if any mess was dropped and then put it on their gardens. We kept hens for their eggs over there in two sheds, also some geese and ducks, the eggs being hatched and the young reared and fattened for Christmas.

Life in Ide in those days was very tranquil with no cars or lorries, only horses, cows and pigs in the village street. Father had the only lorry in the neighbourhood and was the first motorized vehicle in Ide. As well as the mixed farm he also delivered coal in the village and local areas.

There was a station where St Ida's Close is now. The coal trucks came into the siding at the station and as well as coal there was also fertilizer.

Time went by and haymaking was a chore which everyone joined in. The grass was cut and then had to be turned over by hand with a hay fork (two pronged). Even we boys were roped in to help turn the hay in the field. The grass had been cut and lay in long flat rows and these had to be turned over to let the sun get at the green underneath. It took a long time to turn four acres. No luxury of a hay turner - they didn't arrive until after the 1939 war.

There were two horses as there were also two fields at the top of Pole House Lane. They had to be ploughed and worked every year and the crops brought down to the farm. It was lovely riding on these great big 17 hand high horses. The corn was cut with a binder which would be pulled by the two horses, as the rabbits started running out we had Toby the dog, who could catch them, it was great fun.

Christmas was always an extremely busy time as two pigs were always killed and sold around the village. Geese, turkeys and chickens had to be killed and plucked. We had an incubator which held 50 eggs and it was fascinating to watch the little chicks peck their way out of the eggs. They soon dried off and then they went to a run in the big shed.

Life was idyllic; the College stream was a favourite playing place with a jam jar trying to catch minnows and stick-o-backs. Later on four wheel trolleys made from prams became the in thing. Just a simple board joining two axles one of which swivelled, the blacksmith having made a hole, and you steered with your feet. It was great fun coming from the school down to the bottom of the village.

The milk from the cows was delivered around the village by a milk float, which was a three wheeled trolley. Churns were kept in the dairy to cool. Cream was made once a week and people brought their glass dishes over on Saturday morning and the cream was ladled into them and a charge made.

There was also all the fields of the various farms to be explored. It was forbidden to walk on the railway lines but we did. Over at Perridge was a lovely large lily pond with lots and lots of tadpoles in season. Jars were used to bring them home into our small pond.

Helping with all the animals was great fun. Life was very hard for a farmer in those days - working seven days a week, very often starting at 6 am and finishing at 9 pm. I think you had to be dedicated to that life to be a good landsman. After Dad died Mother found it extremely difficult to cope and made the decision to give up the farm and find something more manageable.

THE WEST TOWN FARM COMMUNITY TRUST NEWS

Hello and Happy New Year from everybody at West Town Farm!
 It finally feels a little more like Winter with the recent frosts and we're able to work a lot more effectively when we're not wading through the mud. This cold snap has been especially useful given that we've been TB testing and preparing for our annual red tractor and soil association inspections. Happily January is our quietest time for everything non-livestock related so we're not feeling to overwhelmed. We're just glad it's stopped raining!

Many of you will already be aware that over the last month or so we have been in ongoing talks with the Church Commissioners who have now advised us that they have no urgent need to sell West Town Farm this spring and as such will not be selling to West Town Farm Community Trust. Andy's tenancy is secure and West Town Farm will continue to offer a wide range of education and community engagement in conjunction with organicARTS. West Town Farm Community Trust, which has been registered as a Charitable Community Benefit Society, will continue to exist, albeit in a dormant capacity for the immediate future.

Enormous thanks are due to those of you who supported the Trust during it's formation. We will be continuing to host monthly farm walks the first of which will be lead by Nigel Hewitt from the RSPB and will leave the farm yard at 9am on the 7th of February. We look forward to seeing some of you there!
