NOVEMBER 2022

We are into the season of damp weather and falling leaves – a time for keeping drains clear to avoid flooding as you will see on page 15. There will be the usual Fireworks on the 5th November in the Poachers garden and we hope that will be a fine evening. Our thanks go to Paula and her team who organised Ide in Bloom – our entry in the RHS competition. We did very well – see page 14 for details. The New Ide Aloud choir will be giving a concert on the 25th and 26th November – so there is plenty to brighten up a grey month.

Articles for the December/January issue of the Ide Times should be sent to me Brenda Spivey email brendaspivey123@btinternet.com by the 20th November. Remember this issue covers two months.

Ide in Bloom

Everyone in Ide can take enormous pride from the recognition given by the Royal Horticultural Society to the village and its rich variety of groups. Ide took three awards in The RHS Britain in Bloom competition in October: gold for community, silver gilt for environment, and silver for horticulture. Paula Burton Perrett, who co-ordinated our entry, celebrates the details in her piece in this edition of Ide Times. (see page 14).

Community Orchard

The hot summer brought a terrific apple crop. Several of the mature trees are still heaving with ripe fruit. Do go up and pick apples for yourselves on any day you like. On the first Sunday of each month - 6 Nov, 4 Dec, 1 Jan, 5 Feb, 5 Mar - come and join the winter working parties, 10.00 to 13.00, to clear overgrown areas of the orchard and prune mature trees. Bring stout boots, thick gloves and pruning gear [and of course coffee and fruit loaf].

Defibrillator (AED – automatic external defibrillator)

The defibrillator is in a locked cabinet outside the shop. If someone collapsed, you've had to dial 999 to ask for the lock code to get the defibrillator out of the cabinet. Some villages now publicise their defibrillator access code, so responders can get to the machine immediately, rather than first ringing 999 to be given the code. We've decided to do the same.

It's still vital to call 999 for the ambulance. But getting through can take longer than it used to. Ambulances can't always meet the 8 minute standard for heart attack attendance. And some phones have no reception at the shop.

Our defibrillator is designed for use by anyone who is present when someone collapses, with no training necessary. Lift it out of the cabinet, take it to the casualty and press the ON button. It then tells you, in clear audio, what to do. It works on battery, and doesn't need plugging in to the mains. Importantly, whatever you do it will not give a shock unless the person has really had a cardiac arrest.

There are free online demonstrations of CPR (cardio-pulmonary resuscitation) on YouTube, so you can picture what the machine will ask you to do.

The code to unlock the defibrillator cabinet is C123X.

This will be published each month in Ide Times; and put on the defibrillator cabinet and shop noticeboard. Put it in your phone contacts.

And remember, if you have to use the defibrillator, shout loudly for help repeatedly while you are tending to the casualty; and ring 999 for an ambulance - or ask someone else to.

Weir Meadow and Northern Fields

A secure barrier gate, along with advisory signage, is to be installed at the entrance to Weir Meadow off Station Road, with gaps each side to walk through. A pedestrian gate will be installed in the existing gap in the hedge in the north eastern corner of the Eastern N Field, onto College Lane. And a stile will be erected at the entrance higher up College Lane, where the gap in the hedge has a post and rail fence across it.

IDE COMMUNITY SHOP & POST OFFICE

Christmas Decorations for the shop

Can you help us decorate the shop in a very personalised, but eco friendly way for Christmas?

We would like everyone in the village, and all the organisations to decorate a paper chain for Christmas. Then we will loop them all together to decorate the shop for Christmas. After Christmas we will recycle them all.

You can collect a strip of paper from the shop and colour/decorate/embellish it in any way you like. When you have finished your paper chain please drop it back to the shop and we will link your masterpieces together.

This is for all ages and abilities not just for the children. We would like all the people, organisations, and activities in the village represented in the decorations as it is your local community shop for the community.

Gordon and Graham have already done theirs!

Their decorated paper chain strip

Their joined up finished paper chain

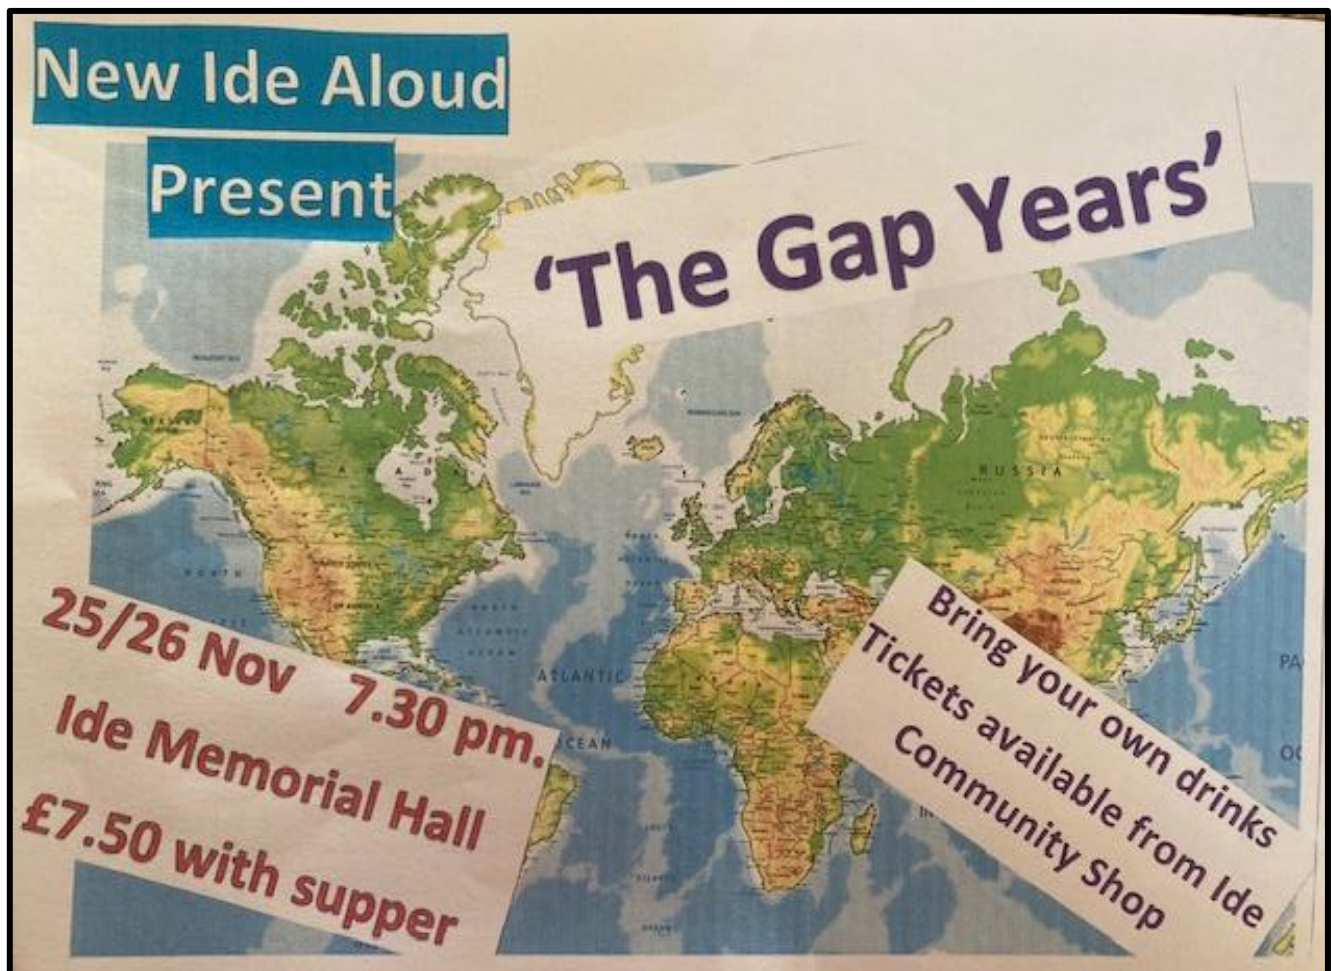

Thank you for all your help and patience and working with us during the Royal Mail strikes – we do appreciate it.

IDE COMMUNITY ORCHARD – VOLUNTEERING DAYS

On the first Sunday of the autumn and winter months we are going to plant daffodil bulbs, create wild flower areas, have a pruning and tidying day, and a good old fashioned Wassail of the apple trees.

Do please come along and help. Our first session will be on Sunday, 6 November from 9-12 am, when we will be planting daffodils - all you will need is a trowel or spade, fork or bulb planter.

Reminders for each Day will be posted on the village website.

FROM YOUR DISTRICT AND COUNTY COUNCILLORS

Our group of councillors intends to freeze the Teignbridge share of council tax next year in response to the cost of living crisis. Teignbridge keeps less than 10% of the council tax it collects, most goes to Devon County Council. Austerity policies have seen many millions of pounds per year slashed from central government funding for all district councils. Like many, Teignbridge is struggling to maintain services while funding withers, so it will not be easy to achieve the freeze. The £5 increase in council tax this year brought in an extra £242,000 to pay for TDC services.

The draft local plan is expected to come to the full council meeting on 15th December. The requirement to build 760 houses per year is handed to Teignbridge by government along with many of the rules to select sites. The government has an ambition to make development easier, so getting the Plan in place before that changes should keep more local control over the policies that will shape development for another 20 years. This draft will include the final list of sites chosen for allocation in the plan and will include more details of how developments might look. It will be published around the 8th. December.

Bin collections are still behind, despite the teams working really hard. Post Brexit it is still extremely difficult to find HGV drivers. There are 9 open vacancies, and 2 more drivers are long term sick. That's about 20% of the fleet.

Ide Community Shop and Post Office provides a much-valued community service, especially for the more elderly Ide residents. The Post Office is very busy with postal and banking services. But the shop desperately needs more volunteers.

Full training given plus lots of support and laughs as standard. Volunteers are also needed for:

Date checking plus shop and forecourt cleaning.

Free tea, coffee and very often cake whilst on duty.

Great fun and good company guaranteed!

Please call in and ask for more details or for a chat.

THE REVEREND EARLE, VICAR OF IDE, 1835-1855

I wonder how many of our villagers know that we are fortunate in having the publication in 1992 of a book by Donald Burnett, my contemporary, "A History of the People and the Parish of Ide".

The book covers every aspect of village life and is reflective of the changing social times – so we have the farms, shops, industry and the prominent people. Of course the Vicars come into it and it includes interesting and amusing account.

That concerning the Reverend Earle, 1835-1855, has the most attention. When he began his incumbency he found the church in a deplorable state despite the repairs that were carried out in the late 1700s, so many that this provided the income of local craftsmen and labourers. The chancel had been rebuilt at a cost of £1,300 remarkably raised by public subscription. The blue and gold gallery screen was also restored. The screen was lost during the demolition of the old church, exactly how was never discovered. Rumour has it that the elaborate screen decorated with coats of arms of church dignitaries was considered too 'high' for the new church and a considerable sum was raised for the new building by its sale.

Our present church was consecrated in 1834, and described in the local paper as lofty and neat, but many parishioners thought it dull. Ide never considered itself as high church, so the new church may have been built to reflect that. The tower of the old church remains and is in sharp contrast to the main body of the church.

The Reverend Earle was a man of high standards, not only for the church but also for himself. The parsonage was considered not good enough so he demolished the old farmhouse at Westown and built himself a handsome house grandly named Earles Court. Evidently he wanted some seclusion as the twisted drive means we cannot see his home. Mr Earle was a bachelor and he had a butler, a valet and a personal servant living in the village. His memorial is in the church and includes his coat of arms.

I wish I could conclude by saying where the grave of the Reverend Earle is located. The area to the West of the church has burials of the 1800s and I seem to remember seeing his grave but am now unable to locate it. If anyone knows where it is, please let me know.

THE JUBILEE CLUB

Our delayed outing to Sidmouth was good, with folk able to sit gazing out for sea however no one ventured in !

Our meeting on October 3rd was a talk by a Police dog handler, Andi Darby who was an enthusiastic speaker about her work. She was a farmer's daughter, used to an outdoor life, and had been in the police force for 22 years, 14 as a dog handler. Puppy walkers keep the dogs until they are a year old. They are taught to track by giving them treats. They then go on to be trained and start working until about 8 years old. There are many different jobs for which they are trained,; finding drugs, cash, firearms, missing persons, body fluids, crowd control and digital dogs to find sim cards and USB sticks. On finding a person will stand and bark or when finding recently stolen items may just sit there and stare, they do not pick an item up unless trained to do so. Andi brought in her German Shepherd who found the village hall floor slippery but was quick to obey commands.

More treats at the next meeting when Chris Woodward came to give us a short history of British Music Hall. His interest stemmed from coach trips as a child with his parents, when there would be a sing song. This resulted in him researching the history of music Hall.

In early Victorian times there was much poverty and cheap entertainment in the form of free and easy song and supper rooms were a welcome diversion from life's hardships. Music Hall started in the 1820-1830s at the Canterbury Music Hall where they would admit a gentleman and friend but no babies in arms. Food was served, for example boiled beef and carrots. Many names were mentioned: Walter Sickert 1850-1942, Frank Matchless Matcham 1854-1920 (responsible for the building of the London Palladium) then there was Charles Coborn 1852-1945, a good man who did much charitable work. There were many other names and of course many female entertainers. Including, of course, a risqué entertainer - Marie Lloyd. The first Royal Variety Performance was attended by King George V and Queen Mary - Marie Lloyd was not allowed to perform, so she booked a place down the road! Vesta Tilley 1854-1952 did perform but she dressed up as a man and Queen Mary kept her programme in front of her face. Vesta married an M.P. - gave up entertaining and lived a very happy life.

Chris had us singing along to so many well known old favourites to which we knew the words along with the films and music. An afternoon of fun, one member said she could have happily listened for another hour. Chris has so much enthusiasm and it is infectious.

QUEEN VICTORIA SEAMEN'S REST

This is Sam Lloyd, he stopped off at the community shop on 17th October for a rest as he is cycling from Poplar in London to Lands End, then up to John O'Groats to raise awareness for Queen Victoria Seamen's Rest. He has been sleeping in a pop up tent along the way, in some unusual locations like a graveyard, community park, hay barn and even someone's garden, with their permission of course. STAGECOACH BUSES

Exeter bus timetables have changed but the one for our 360 bus appears to be unchanged. The shortage of drivers has meant long waits for buses in the Exeter area and it is hoped that the new timetables will avoid this, even if it means less buses on some routes. We have been fortunate here in Ide in that, although we don't have many buses, they do usually run and pretty well to time.

IDE IN BLOOM 2022..... and the results are....

Well, where do I start with this? The Bloom results were announced on the 13th October. There's a ceremony every year but I have to admit I didn't attend as sometimes I struggle to fit everything in and much prefer to be in the garden than the conference room. So a couple of glasses of vino into Saturday evening I received a text from "RHS Richard" to say well done we'd won SILVER GILT!!

Oh my goodness, (whoop-whoop), I have to admit I did shed a little tear!

Our entry comprises all our projects and gardening related events pulled together into a 20 page portfolio that can be found on the village website. There are three categories to the judging: environment, horticulture and community.

We scored silver gilt for environment, - they were particularly impressed with our Orchard project, rewilding and the effort that has been made to ensure our planting is sustainable. The street cleanliness did not go unnoticed!!

We scored silver for horticulture in particular the most excellent standard of the private gardens judges saw.

And last but by no means least GOLD for community!! Under this there was a long list of events and initiatives. Everything from seed swaps to our doorstep challenge, our School sensory garden and wildlife projects, our working groups, use of locally grown plants and of course the support of our tremendous village shop and Parish Council.

As if that wasn't enough, we also entered our wonderful orchard project into the RHS Its Your Neighbourhood Awards. This year we scored the very highest award – a level 5 OUTSTANDING.

I am so very proud of Ide for this achievement a massive, hearty thank you to everyone! You are all Blooming Marvellous.

Paula

IIDE EMERGENCY WORKING GROUP

It's Autumn the leaves are falling, and although half the country is still officially in drought I'm assured November will bring rain.

Although we aren't high risk for main river flooding here in Ide, we do suffer from occasional surface water flooding and run off. This happens as a result of high intensity rainfall or when our village ditches along the High Street become blocked with leaves or litter.

If heavy rain is forecast, please could High Street residents check that grids and grills are clear of leaves outside their properties along the High Street. There is also a larger grill along College Lane, this is part of flood risk management on the ford. Please don't attempt to clear or enter this structure, it's Environment Agency property.

There's lots of advice about Flooding on the .gov.uk website. You can also sign up to flood warnings by phoning Floodline on 0345 988 1188 – Ide is part of the Mid Devon Rivers and Streams catchment. In the event of forecast heavy rain and flooding there are sand bags in the stores in the top car park and now the Huntsman car park. Stores will be unlocked. Please do get in touch if you would like further information or would like to join the Ide Emergency working group.

Spooky Tales & Chilli Supper Friday 4th November

A unique chance to leave the busyness of everyday life behind, take a pause, and join us for a spicy evening of fantastic food made with our own produce and listen to stories especially chosen for this time of year.

After supper, gather round the fire to be taken on a spooky journey by well known story teller Lisa Schneidau.

'I tell stories that inspire, provoke curiosity and build stronger connections between people and nature' says Lisa. We can't wait to hear them!

The farmyard at West Town is transformed in the evening to a magical place lit up by strings of lights and warmed by fire. There is indoor and covered outdoor seating. Tickets through our website.

The Serious Matter of Woodchip & Soil Building

Top soil erosion is one of the major issues facing the world. This month the cows will come in to the barns for the winter. Underneath their straw bed we spread a deep layer of woodchip. This is dropped off to the farm as a waste product from tree surgery in the local area. As the winter progresses it begins to break down and gradually turns into a rich mulch. Next year we will spread this on the fields, building organic matter into the soil. We love how this virtuous cycle perfectly illustrates how regenerative farming contributes to soil building. Healthy soil, healthy planet – on which we all depend.

Farm shop - We've got our very own lamb back in the farm shop. Various cuts available. We are also stocking Oinkers sausages!
